

Breadcrumb Dust by Leyla Sade

Slowly, I'm _____ you
Bit by bit, breath by _____
Breaking the _____ with whispers
That cut you in two

You shrink in the _____ I cast
Each word a _____ from the past
I scatter what's left of your _____
Like _____ in the grass

You _____, but you don't disappear
Still _____ close, still unclear
I _____ you in the air I trust—
You're gone, but you left your _____

And the dust of you falls like _____
Too small to _____, too sharp to touch
I _____ them up, I press them to my _____
And it still tastes _____, it still tastes... _____

I chipped you down with my _____
A _____ cruel in her phase
'Til nothing was left but a _____
That _____ won't erase
